

Principals Report

Hanover Schools response to children's bodies found at residential schools

- Moments of silence
- Flags lowered
- Wear orange shirts this week

Teachers have been provided with additional learning resources. Kids will have emotional support as well. (Jerrah-Lee Broesky, counsellors etc.)

Andy Mead is remaining at remote learning center. Mr Neufeld will remain here at MMS for the next school year.

Learning forward days this coming Friday and next Monday. This will be in three parts for kids grades 1-9

- Reading assessment
- Survey detailing how kids are feeling about school.
- Numeracy assessment. Purpose is to communicate to teachers in fall what each student has and does not have at their grade level.

The numeracy assessment is quite large and will likely be done on two different days. There may be questions that they have not seen yet. Students are being told it's okay that they do not know it yet and leaving the question blank gives teachers information needed as well.

Assessments will not be reflected on the report card. Emails will be sent to the parents to explain this as well.

End of year celebrations - Waiting for guidelines from Manitoba School Board Association for how to provide awards. Approval has been made to have lunch together for the grade 8's. Waiting to hear about an afternoon of games and whether or not that can happen. We want to celebrate the kids as much as we can, especially this year.

Staff room stocked with snacks and was appreciated.

Education reform report - Jerrah-Lee gathered information. Mr. Neufeld will send the information received from the staff to us parents.

Treasurer's Report

After stock the staffroom account will be at $672.58. We plan on doing another fundraiser towards the beginning of next school year.
